

1913 Art Photo Calendars

The Perkins Art Calendars are surprises this year—new scenes—finer quality than ever before.

In sepia and black.

Ask for them at any store where similar goods are sold.

R.W. Tertius
PHOTOGRAPHER

IT TASTES PRETTY GOOD

When you take it out of a "Lawn and Chestnut Refrigerator," the perfume being cold perfect and very convenient to every well-stocked house for the accomplishment of all kinds of cold dishes.

THE LEONARD CLEARSABLE Portable Glass REFRIGERATOR

Because the Leonard Clearsable well conserves the cold air in and the warm air out. If you want every article of food to come out of your refrigerator as sweet and wholesome as when it went in, then buy a Leonard Clearsable. We are local agents and have a full line ready for your inspection. Every article is absolutely guaranteed.

H. Hackfeld & Co.,
AGENTS.

DR. T. MELAMANDRA

Office: 1412 Nuuanu St., cor. Vineyard
St. Office hours: 9:30 to 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Sundays by appointment.
Residence: 10 N. Vineyard Street, near office. Telephone 8122; F. O. Box 52.

MRS. MULFORD COMES TO MAKE HOME WITH SON

Mrs. Anna H. Mulford, of Chicago mother of E. A. Mulford, arrived on the Wilhelmina this morning to make her home with her son. Mr. Mulford came here recently, representing the Paradise Paint Company of San Francisco, large manufacturers of roofing material, and will continuously represent them and do roofing application through the agency of Davies & Co., who represent the line in the Hawaiian Islands.

Yee Chan & Co.'s window display of Oriental silk goods is attracting much attention. Some of the most exquisite mandarin coats are included in the display. The line of holiday goods this year is the best and largest in the history of the firm.

TALKS ON CHARTER

(Continued from Page 1)

municipal charter for Honolulu.

"However, I am strongly in favor of a new charter along the lines suggested by Governor Frear at last night's meeting, and am willing to do all in my power to assist. The success of the measure will depend largely upon a campaign of education among the Hawaiian and Portuguese electorate and I would like to see Chairman Whitney appoint a strong active committee which will endeavor by public meetings held in the Kakaako, Punchbowl and Fifth district to thoroughly explain the advantages of such a charter."

Juda asks "Why."

"I am not hostile to the proposed alterations in the present charter," said Albert F. Juda this morning, "merely ask why any change? What is the trouble with the present system? In what has it failed? How will the proposed changes improve conditions here? On general principles I am opposed to lightly changing the organic law of the Territory or municipality."

"I have no patience with upsetting things just because there happens to be a Democratic majority in the board of supervisors at present. I believe that if there is to be any change it should be in the direction of giving the supervisors more authority and the accompanying responsibility. If they make good, so much the better for Honolulu. If they fail we shall know where to place the blame and the Republicans will have a chance to do better next time. Take the present charter, I say, and analyze something worth while out of it. Do not go to the mainland for a charter which probably would not fit the peculiar conditions we are facing now."

Mayor Mead.

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter for Honolulu enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject? When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

"I suppose that if the same state of affairs in power continues as is now existing, there will have to be a provision authorizing the municipality to borrow from the Territory—such amounts as are coming to them at the same rate of interest as the Territory is receiving from the banks."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I would say that the question as to who is to have the power of taxation in the city should be carefully considered. Has the Governor expressed any views on that subject?

"When the city fathers run short of money they cannot borrow any longer—not even from the Territory. Any advances to them are illegal."

Congressman Charles F. Chillingworth, being asked for his views upon the prospect of having a new charter enacted at the coming session, said he had not yet given the matter much thought, and did not know exactly what was proposed, adding:

"In the first place, though, all responsibility should be placed on the mayor, as originally. If the mayor is not capable to carry out his position, let us get a new mayor."

"Not having had the opportunity to go into the different phases of the proposed amendment before expressing an opinion, I